

CV

Diego Guido is a Geologist and PhD from the Argentinean La Plata University. He is CONICET researcher since 2005, and Professor at the La Plata University, Argentina, since 2009. He currently serves as Exploration Vice President of Austral Gold mining company. Dr. Guido has specialized in epithermal systems in his 20 years of experience studying mineral deposits in volcanic settings, having been a consultant to more than 25 mining companies. He is the author of more than 150 scientific articles and more than 90 technical reports. Supervises researchers, postdoctoral, PhD, masters and graduate students in Argentina, Chile and New Zealand.